

Photo needed

Michael G. Hackes

KIA 28 April 1944

Navy Seaman 2nd Class

Michael G. Hackes was killed in action on 28 April 1944.

He is buried at Cambridge American Cemetery in the UK. He served on LST 289 which was torpedoed by German u-boats on 28 April during D-Day rehearsals off the English Slapton Islands. LSTs were designed to land tanks on beaches.

Michael lived on Paterson Ave and Harrison St with parents George and Eva Hackes and siblings Anna, Helen, Nellie, Mary, Eva, Sophie, Peter, Joseph, and Andrew.

Can you help us find more information? Contact Post 108.